Speaker of the Week

Speaker last week was Mike Hall, head coach of Salina Central High School football. He outlined the coming season and described the new playoff system, which is structured to prevent two of the best teams meeting each other in the first round of play.

Hall also talked about concussion safety, including new rules, and other rules under study, that are expected to reduce collisions that contribute to concussions.

He said concussion danger exists in high school, but the greater danger is to those that play for several years, such as professional players that started the game in middle school. They suffer from cumulative damage.

Joke of the Week

A guy walks into a bar and orders six shooters. The bartender says, "Looks like you are having a bad day."

The guy says, "Am I ever! I woke up late for work. On my way to work, I got in an accident. I got to work four hours late, so the boss fired me. To top it off, I came home and found my wife in bed with my best friend."

The bartender says, "What did you say to your wife?"

The guy says, "I told her to get out, and I never want to see her again."

The bartender says, "What did you say to your best friend?"

The guy says, "BAD DOG!"
